Portable Apps Tracker

PortableAppsTracker is a tiny application designed to keep you informed about the activity of the processes running on your computer and that can help you to keep an eye on what your fellow computer users are doing. PortableAppsTracker allows you to record your activities such as keystrokes, screenshots, and activity. If you are monitoring your own activities, the application allows you to do so. PortableAppsTracker creates a log file which contains information about the process name, activity, computer name, time, time zone, application and time interval between screenshots. You can view the log of your activity either in the form of a report or at your desired intervals. The log of your activities can be viewed in the report or downloaded for your further analysis and usage. PortableAppsTracker lets you specify the time interval between screenshots. Specifying the time interval between screenshots helps you to create accurate reports.

PortableAppsTracker is compatible with Windows XP, Vista, 7, 8 and 8.1. It supports both 32-bit and 64-bit applications and does not make any changes to the registry.

PortableAppsTracker Additional Information

PortableAppsTracker is a very useful program to keep you informed about the state of your computer and prevent it from undesired activities. It creates a log file of all activities and allows you to view it at your own desired intervals. This will help you find out which processes are running on your computer and whether they are using resources. The application also offers the feature to perform screenshots at user-defined intervals. These screenshots will help you to find out what programs are running on your computer. PortableAppsTracker has a very user-friendly and easy-to-use interface. You can quickly start and stop the application by clicking its icon and the icon of the log file. You can also save the log of your activities as a report and view it at your own desired intervals.

PortableAppsTracker is a nice application that can help you to keep a record of your system activity and act as an anti-virus program for your computer.

PortableAppsTracker Additional Information

PortableAppsTracker is a useful application for keeping a record of your system activity. The log file created by this application helps you to keep a record of all activities and their corresponding time intervals. This helps you to create a report of your activities at desired intervals and also serves as a screen capture and reporting utility. PortableAppsTracker also offers

* Enables the loading of DLL files in the running process to prevent them from loading into memory and potentially to gain more resources from an application that they are loaded into. This also stops files from being deleted from the program. The DLL section can contain multiple sub-sections to stop a file from being loaded into memory and performing actions such as command redirection.

The specified DLLs are either loaded or redirected according to the trigger condition from the command line, and can be loaded or redirected on any application that is currently running. By default, all trigger conditions are enabled in the section. * Enables you to grab the keystrokes that are being executed on the current window without any alert or notification. * The application helps you to easily monitor and block activities of the selected applications. * Can be used to track down the cause of any problems that your computer may be experiencing, thanks to the comprehensive error and exception logging. * Detailed statistics of each application are generated on-demand, allowing you to keep track of the time spent by every app on your computer. * A customizable, easy-to-use interface is included for all the settings and functions.

* The application is equipped with a scheduler, which allows you to configure the monitoring intervals, and run it automatically. * Supports multiple languages (English, Russian, Spanish, German, Italian, French, Japanese, Chinese, Arabic, Portuguese and Ukrainian). * The standard installation of the application enables the scheduler function, which allows you to specify the number of monitoring intervals, as well as the time intervals between them. * A custom installation of the program will not enable the scheduler function. * Customizable desktop gadgets are available for customization and change in a desired position. * Runs on all Windows versions, starting with Windows XP. * The application is equipped with the ability to generate email reports and send them to the address that you specify. * The most commonly used functions of the app are highlighted and easy to reach using the on-screen keyboard. *

The user interface supports multiple languages (English, Russian, Spanish, German, Italian, French, Japanese, Chinese, Arabic, Portuguese and Ukrainian). * The application is a portable version of apps tracker, which does not require an installation and does not make any registry entries. * You can receive all the reports from the application as email attachments. * The application can be activated by using a hotkey to change the states of the set options 77a5ca646e
